

THE SOFT LIFE MANDATE

It is with great humor, deep humility, strategic impatience, slight hunger, and emergency confidence that I, Sarki Amada, declare my intention to run for the House of Representatives to represent the good and correct people of AMAC/Bwari.

My mission is simple: To bring Soft Life to the people. If I eat, my people must eat. If I see opportunity, I will drag it home like a stubborn generator that refuses to start. My people, we need a representative who will enter the chamber with the urgency of someone whose light was taken by NEPA during the Champions League final.

My first three Bills are;

1. Targeted Subsidy Bill (N600 Fuel only for the Masses)
2. Digital Youth & Economy (No more EFCC & Police Harassing youths)
3. Empowerment and Japa Skillization
 - Wedding Rebate Program
 - Entrepreneurs' Dream Hub
 - Rent Subsidy Program
 - Hospital Bill Subsidy

This is not politics as usual. This is The Soft Life Mandate.

1. TARGETED SUBSIDY

When fuel subsidy was removed, they said it was to save Nigeria. But when they pulled the plug, it was not the rich man who parked his eight cars, it was the ordinary Nigerian who was thrown into hardship.

The problem was never subsidy. The problem was who was eating it.

Under the old blanket subsidy, we rewarded the rich for being rich. If government subsidizes fuel by N500 per litre, a rich man with 8 cars, 4 houses, fuels his ugly side hen car, thereby consuming 1,500 litres gets N750,000 in relief, while a poor man in 1 house with 1 car & beautiful wife using 80 litres gets only N40,000. Out of N790,000 spent between both of them, the poor man gets about 5.1%, while the rich man & his side piece swallows about 94.9%.

As your Representative, I will push for a Targeted Fuel Relief System through a dedicated Fuel Subsidy Card, bringing fuel relief directly to ordinary Nigerians not billionaires, smugglers, and convoys.

Subsidy should not follow litres. Subsidy must follow the masses.

2. DIGITAL YOUTH & ECONOMY

Today, being a young Nigerian with a laptop, smartphone, and good data connection is treated like a criminal offense. A youth can sit in Kubwa, Dutse, Bwari, or Gwarinpa and work for a company in Tokyo, London, Dubai, or New York, earning legitimate foreign exchange.

1. But instead of support, many face harassment.
2. Instead of encouragement, they face profiling.
3. Instead of opportunity, they face intimidation.

SARKI AMADA FOR HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

AMAC/Bwari 2027 | Service to the People

As a software engineer with over 15 years in IT, I know the digital economy. I have hired freelancers. I have earned remotely. I know that you do not need a tie, office desk, or 9-to-5 job to be a legitimate professional.

I will sponsor the Digital Youth Protection & Professional Policing Bill.

1. No more harassment because someone owns a laptop.
2. No more branding our youths as lazy.
3. No youth should be harassed without proper investigation, due process, and a warrant.

3. EMPOWERMENT & JAPA SKILLZATION

I am not talking about empowerment where one wheelbarrow is shared among fifty people and called economic revolution. Anybody can give you fish today, take pictures for social media, and by tomorrow even the fish will deny ever knowing you.

My empowerment is different; The first pillar is JAPA Skillzation.

Under JAPA Skillzation, my office will support bright talents in AMAC/Bwari to travel abroad, master advanced technology, engineering, technical, and world-class skills, and return home as master trainers.

I have lived and stayed in over seven countries, and I can tell you categorically: there is no place like home. Today, many young Nigerians see Japa as escape. I want to turn it into a government-backed strategy for national development.

I will sponsor you to the best academies in the world, bring you back, show you the road, and help us build our nation. Because I'm here to offer service to the people.

AMAC/BWARI, SOFT LIFE HAS REACHED YOUR SIDE

The era of unnecessary struggle is expiring. This is a movement for the trader, student, freelancer, mother, driver, business owner, graduate, artisan, tech guy, market woman, and every young person tired of surviving inside a country full of potential.

Join forces with the King.

Vote Sarki Amada for House of Representatives. Vote Soft Life. Vote Subsidy. Vote Security. Vote Empowerment. Service to the People.

Sincerely,

Sarki Amada

Candidate for House of Representatives
